We are sorry to inform you that Filesonic will stop to support and keep online its installation-free version on August 31st 2019. The first step of the shutdown process will be the disappearance of the Filesonic application on your device, and this will allow to upgrade your account (if you haven't yet). Those who already have an active account will keep their files, as well as to be able to access their documents. Our main goal is to provide users with a space for free sharing of files without any installation. So if you want to continue sharing your documents with us, the only thing you have to do is to upgrade your account and access to your files. We encourage you to find below a link to know more about how to upgrade your account and access to your files. Then, you will be able to find a download link allowing you to re-download all your files on Filesonic with no previous download-manager application. We invite you to read our Terms and Conditions in order to get an idea of how to download or re-download your files on Filesonic. Once you reach this point, the shutdown process will begin and the Filesonic application won't be accessible anymore. Our main goal is to provide users with a space for free sharing of files without any installation. This shutdown process is a necessary step in order to proceed with the setup and maintenance of the new ownership of the Filesonic app. We decided to take this step in order to
